Independent Auditor's Report

To the Shareholders of Spectral Medical Inc.
(formerly Spectral Diagnostics Inc.)

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Spectral Medical Inc., which comprise the statements of financial position as at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 and the statements of loss and comprehensive loss, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes, which comprise a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained in our audits is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

1. Nature of operations

Spectral Medical Inc. (Spectral or the Company) was incorporated on July 29, 1991 in Ontario, Canada as Spectral Diagnostics Inc. Effective December 31, 2014, the Company's name was changed to "Spectral Medical Inc.". The address of the registered office is 135 The West Mall, Unit 2, Toronto, Ontario.

The Company is strategically focused on the development and commercialization of a treatment for severe sepsis utilizing its Endotoxin Activity Assay (EAA™) diagnostic and the Toraymyxin therapeutic. The Company also manufactures and sells certain proprietary reagents.

2. Basis of preparation

The financial statements of Spectral have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") as set out in the CPA Canada Handbook. These financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors for issue on March 24, 2015.

3. Significant accounting policies

The significant accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements are described below:

i. Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

ii. Foreign currency

a. Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Company's financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates (the "functional currency"). The financial statements are presented in Canadian dollars, which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

b. Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of foreign currency transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than Canadian dollars are recognized within operating loss in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss.

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

iii. Critical accounting estimates and judgments

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise judgment in applying Spectral's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions are significant to the financials are disclosed below.

The management of Spectral makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future that may not equal actual results.

a. Share options valuation and share based compensation

Assumptions are used in the underlying calculation of fair values of the Spectral's stock options. Fair value is determined using the Black-Scholes pricing model. Significant changes in the assumptions could materially change the recorded carrying amounts.

b. Clinical trial expenses

Clinical trial expenses are accrued based on the services received and efforts expended pursuant to contracts with clinical research organizations (CROs), consultants and other vendors. In the normal course of business, the Company contracts third parties to perform various clinical trial activities in the ongoing "EUPHRATES" trial. The financial terms of these agreements vary from contract to contract, are subject to negotiation and may result in uneven payment flows. Payments under the contracts depend on factors such as the achievement of certain events, the successful enrolment of patients or the completion of portions of the clinical trial or similar conditions. The Company determines the accruals by reviewing contracts, vendor agreements and purchase orders, and through discussions with internal personnel and external service providers as to the progress or stage of completion of the trial or services and the agreed-upon fee to be paid for such services. However, actual costs and timing of the EUPHRATES trial is uncertain, subject to risks and may change depending upon a number of factors, including the Company's clinical development plan and trial protocol.

c. Deferred income taxes

Management uses estimates when assessing the recoverability of deferred income taxes. These estimates are used to determine the recoverability of tax loss carry forward amounts. Unrecognized deferred income tax assets are reassessed at each reporting period and are recognized to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable income for the asset to be recovered.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

iv. Financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provision of the instrument. Financial assets are derecognized when the rights to receive cash flows from the assets have expired or have been transferred and the Company has transferred substantially all risks and benefits of ownership.

The classification is determined at initial recognition and depends on the nature and purpose for which the instruments were acquired:

a. Financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss:

A financial asset or financial liability is classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing in the short term. Derivatives are also included in this category unless they are designated as hedges.

Financial instruments in this category are initially and subsequently stated at fair value. Transaction costs are expensed in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss. Gains and losses arising from changes in fair value are presented within operating loss in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss in the year in which they arise. Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are classified as current except for the portion that is expected to be realized or paid beyond twelve months of the balance sheet date, which is classified as non-current.

b. Loans and receivables:

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets that have fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. The Company's cash and cash equivalents and trade and other receivables are classified as loans and receivables.

Loans and receivables are initially recognized at the amount expected to be received, less any discounts to reduce the loans and receivables to fair value. Subsequently, they are carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method less impairment losses. The impairment loss of receivables is based on a review of all outstanding amounts at year end. Bad debts are written off in the period in which they are identified. Interest income is recognized by applying the effective interest rate, except for short-term receivables when the recognition of interest would be immaterial.

c. Other financial liabilities at amortized cost:

Other financial liabilities are carried at amortized cost and include accounts payable and accrued liabilities. Other financial liabilities are initially recognized at the amount required to be paid, less, when material, a discount to reduce the payable to fair value. Subsequently, other financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Other financial liabilities are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within twelve months. Otherwise, they are classified as non-current liabilities.

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

The Company derecognizes financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or they expire.

d. Financial liabilities and equity instruments:

Debt and equity instruments are classified as either financial liabilities, or as equity, in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement and the definition of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Proceeds received on issuance of units, consisting of common shares and warrants, are allocated to those two instruments based on their relative fair values. Transaction costs are also allocated to the common shares and warrants in proportion to the allocation of proceeds.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognized and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

Financial liabilities are classified as either financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, or other financial liabilities.

v. Impairment of financial assets

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset (other than a financial asset classified as fair value through profit or loss) is impaired. If such evidence exists, the Company recognizes an impairment loss as follows:

a. Financial assets carried at amortized cost:

The impairment loss is the difference between the amortized cost of the loan or receivable and the present value of the estimated future cash flows, discounted using the instrument's original effective interest rate. The carrying amount of the asset is reduced by this amount either directly or indirectly through the use of an allowance account.

Impairment losses on financial assets carried at amortized costs are reversed in subsequent periods if the amount of the loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized.

Spectral Medical Inc.

(formerly Spectral Diagnostics Inc.)

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

vi. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand and deposits in banks and are valued at cost, which approximates fair value.

vii. Trade and other receivables

Trade receivables consist of amounts due from customers for royalties and product sales in the normal course of business. If collection is expected in one year or less, they are classified as current assets. If not, they are presented as non-current assets.

Trade receivables are recognized initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. As at December 31, 2014, management determined that no provision for impairment was required.

Other receivables include accrued interest and net input tax credits receivable.

viii. Prepayments

Prepayments consist of amounts paid in advance for items that have future value to the Company, such as insurance policy premiums, lease deposits and other items paid in advance.

ix. Inventories

Inventories, comprising antibodies, proteins, and EAA™ tests, are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Raw materials and supplies are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value, with replacement cost used as the best available measure of net realizable value. Cost is determined using the weighted average method.

The cost of finished goods and work-in-process comprises raw materials, direct labour, other direct costs and related production overheads (based on normal operating capacity). Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the costs of completion and selling expenses. Obsolete, redundant and slow moving inventory is identified and written down to net realizable value. As at December 31, 2014, management determined that no write down was required.

x. Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. Cost includes expenditures that are attributable to the acquisition of the asset. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of a replacement asset is derecognized when

Spectral Medical Inc.

(formerly Spectral Diagnostics Inc.)

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data) replenishment takes place. Repairs and maintenance costs are recognized within operating loss in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss in the year in which they are incurred.

Property and equipment are depreciated using the straight-line method based on estimated useful lives, which are as follows:

Laboratory equipment	5 years
Office equipment and furniture	5 years
Computer equipment	3 years
Leasehold improvements	over the term of the lease

The depreciation method, useful life and residual values are reviewed annually and adjusted, if appropriate.

Where an item of property and equipment comprises major components with different useful lives, the components are accounted for as separate items of property and equipment.

Expenditures incurred to replace a component of an item of property and equipment that is accounted for separately, are capitalized.

Gains and losses on disposal of property and equipment are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount of the asset and are included as part of other expenses in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss.

xi. Intangible asset

Intangible assets with determinable lives are stated at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses. The Company's intangible asset is a licence with a finite useful life. This asset is capitalized and amortized on a straight-line basis within operating loss in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss over the period of its expected useful life. The licence is amortized over twenty years and has a remaining estimated useful life of fifteen years.

An intangible asset is derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, and are recognized in statement of loss and comprehensive loss when the asset is derecognized.

xii. Impairment of non-financial assets

Property and equipment, and intangible assets are tested for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable. For purposes of measuring recoverable amounts, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are largely independent cash flows (cash generating units or CGUs). The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value, less costs to sell, and value in use

(formerly Spectral Diagnostics Inc.)

Notes to the Financial Statements

being the present value of the expected future cash flows of the relevant asset or CGU. An impairment loss is recognized immediately in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount.

The Company evaluates impairment losses for potential reversals when events or circumstances warrant such consideration.

xiii. Trade and other payables

Trade payables are obligations to pay for goods and services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers and are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are classified as non-current liabilities. Other payables include salaries, bonuses, withholding taxes, and vacation earned but not taken.

xiv. Provisions

Provisions for legal claims, where applicable, are recognized in other payables when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is more likely than not that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are measured at management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period, and are discounted to present value where the effect is material. The Company has not made any provisions as at December 31, 2014.

xv. Deferred revenue

Deferred revenue consists of amounts received from royalty and other customers in advance of revenue recognition. Amounts expected to be recognized within one year or less are classified as current liabilities, with the balance being classified as non-current liabilities.

xvi. Share capital

Common shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issuance of shares are recognized as a deduction from equity.

Spectral Medical Inc.

(formerly Spectral Diagnostics Inc.)

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

xvii. Share options

The fair value of the share options granted for which the Company receives goods or services as consideration for share options is measured at grant date, using the Black Scholes option pricing model, and is recognized at the time goods are received or the services have been rendered. The fair value is recognized as an expense, asset or component of equity depending on the nature of the good or service acquired, with a corresponding increase in equity.

xviii. Warrants

Warrants are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issuance of shares are recognized as a deduction from equity. During the year, the Company extended the expiration term of the issued warrants which in effect is the expiry of the old warrants and issuance of a new warrant. The Company's policy is not to re-measure the new issue upon the extension of the expiry term.

xix. Employee benefits

The Company recognizes short-term benefits, such as salaries, legislated contributions, paid leave and non-monetary benefits on an undiscounted basis as services are rendered to the Company. The Company recognizes bonuses (if any) when a legal or constructive obligation exists and the amount of the bonus can be reasonably estimated.

a. Leave pay:

Employee entitlements to annual leave are recognized as they are earned by the employees. A provision, stated at current cost, is made for the estimated liability at period end.

b. Share-based compensation:

The Company grants share options to buy common shares of the Company to directors, officers, employees and service providers. The Board of Directors grants such share options for periods of up to five years, with vesting periods determined at its sole discretion and at prices equal to the closing market price on the day preceding the date the share options are granted.

The fair value of the share options granted to directors, officers and employees is measured at grant date, using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, and is recognized over the vesting period that the individuals earn the share options. The fair value of the share options is recognized as an expense, with a corresponding increase in equity. The amount recognized as expense is adjusted to reflect the number of share options expected to vest.

Share options granted to directors vest immediately on the date the option is granted.

Spectral Medical Inc.

(formerly Spectral Diagnostics Inc.)

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

Share options granted to employees and service providers vest over a period of three years as follows:

- 25% on the date the share option is granted
- 6.25% in each subsequent quarter

Each tranche is considered a separate award with its own vesting period and grant date fair value. Fair value of each tranche is measured at the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. Compensation expense is recognized over the tranche's vesting period based on the number of awards expected to vest, by increasing equity. The number of awards expected to vest is reviewed at least annually, with any impact being recognized immediately. The share-based compensation reserve is reduced as options are exercised through a credit to share capital. The consideration paid by option holders is credited to share capital when the options are exercised.

c. Termination benefits:

The Company recognizes termination benefits when it has demonstrably committed to either terminate the employment of current employees according to a detailed formal plan without possibility of withdrawal, or provide benefits as result of an offer made to encourage voluntary termination. Benefits which are due more than twelve months after the end of the reporting period are discounted to their present value.

xx. Current and deferred income taxes

The tax expense for the year comprises current and deferred income taxes. Tax is recognized in the statement of loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive loss or directly in equity, respectively.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the statement of financial position date. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred income tax is recognised, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the statement of financial position date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realized or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilized.

Spectral Medical Inc.

(formerly Spectral Diagnostics Inc.)

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013

(in thousands of Canadian dollars, except for share and per share data)

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where there is an intention to settle the balances on a net basis.

xxi. Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. The following specific criteria must be met before revenue is recognized:

a. Royalties:

Royalties are earned on certain proprietary biochemicals. Royalties are accrued in accordance with the terms of the relevant agreements and where the stream of royalty revenue can be reasonably estimated.

b. Product sales:

Revenue from the sale of the Company's EAA™ diagnostic and certain proprietary biochemicals is recognized when all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- The specific risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the purchaser;
- The Company does not retain continuing managerial involvement;
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company; and
- The costs incurred, or to be incurred, in respect of the sale can be measured reliably.

c. Instrumentation:

The Company purchases specialized instrumentation and supplies it to its customers and distributors at negotiated prices. Revenue on the sale of instrumentation is recognized when the conditions as described in item (b) above are satisfied.

Instrumentation is also supplied to various institutions for research and investigative purposes, including clinical sites associated with the EUPHRATES trial.

Where instrumentation is transferred from site to site, it is recorded at the lower of cost or depreciated cost. Depreciation is recorded over its remaining estimated useful life on a straight-line basis and commences when the instrument is supplied to the site.

d. Interest income:

Interest income is recognized within operating loss in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss as it accrues, using the effective interest method.

xxii. Loss per common share

Basic loss per common share is calculated by dividing the loss for the year by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the reporting period. Diluted loss per common share is computed similar to basic loss per common share, except that the weighted average shares outstanding are increased to include additional shares for the assumed exercise of share options and warrants, if dilutive. The number of additional shares is calculated using the treasury share method.

xxiii. Leases

Rents payable under operating leases are expensed on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Incentives received upon entry into an operating lease are recognized straight-line over the lease term. Associated costs, such as maintenance and insurance, are expensed as incurred.

xxiv. Accounting standards adopted in the current year

The following amendments and interpretation have been adopted by the Company for the first time for the financial year beginning on January 1, 2014:

- a. IAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation, clarifies that the right of set-off must not be contingent on a future event. It must also be legally enforceable for all counterparties in the normal course of business, as well as in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy. The amendment also considers settlement mechanisms. The amendment did not have a significant effect on the Company's financial statements.
- b. IAS 36 Impairment of Assets, removes the requirement to disclose the recoverable amount of a cash-generating unit (CGU) to which goodwill or other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives has been allocated when there has been no impairment or reversal of impairment of the related CGU. Furthermore, the amendment introduces additional disclosure requirements applicable to when the recoverable amount of an asset or a CGU is measured at fair value less cost of disposal. This new disclosure includes the fair value hierarchy, key assumptions and valuation techniques used which are in line with the disclosure required by IFRS 13 Fair Value Measurements. The application of this amendment had no material impact on the disclosures in the Company's financial statements.
- c. IFRIC 21 Levies, addresses the issue as to when to recognize a liability to pay a levy imposed by a government. The Interpretation defines a levy, and specifies that the obligating event that gives rise to the liability is the activity that triggers the payment of the levy, as identified by legislation. The Interpretation provides guidance on how different levy arrangements should be accounted for. In particular, it clarifies that neither economic compulsion nor the going concern basis of financial statements preparation implies that an entity has a present obligation to pay a levy that will be triggered by operating in a future period. The application of this Interpretation has had no material impact on the disclosures or on the amounts recognized in the Company's financial statements.

xxv. Accounting standards issued but not yet applied

A number of new standards and amendments to standards and interpretations have not been applied in preparing these financial statements. None of these standards are expected to have a significant effect on the financial statements of the Company, except the following set out below:

- a. IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers, specifies how and when to recognize revenue as well as requiring the Company to provide users of financial statements with more informative, relevant disclosures. The standard provides a single, principles-based five-step model to be applied to all contracts with customers. Extensive disclosures will be required, including disaggregation of total revenue; information about performance obligations; changes in contract asset and liability account balances between periods and key judgments and estimates. IFRS 15 was issued in May, 2014 and applies to an annual reporting period beginning on or after January 1, 2017. The Company has not yet assessed the potential impact of IFRS 15.
- b. IFRS 9 Financial Instruments, addresses the classification, measurement and recognition of financial assets and financial liabilities. The complete version of IFRS 9 was issued in July 2014. It replaces the guidance in IAS 39 that relates to the classification and measurement of financial instruments. IFRS 9 retains but simplifies the mixed measurement model and establishes three primary measurement categories for financial assets: amortized cost, fair value through other comprehensive income (OCI) and fair value through profit and loss. The basis of classification depends on the entity's business model and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset. Investments in equity instruments are required to be measured at fair value through profit or loss with the irrevocable option at inception to present changes in fair value in OCI without recycling to profit and loss. There is now a new expected credit losses model that replaces the incurred loss impairment model used in IAS 32. For financial liabilities, there were no changes to classification and comprehensive income for liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss. IFRS 9 relaxes the requirements for hedge effectiveness by replacing the bright line hedge effectiveness test. It requires an economic relationship between the hedged item and the hedging instrument and for the 'hedged ratio' to be the same as the one management actually use for risk management purposes. Contemporaneous documentation is still required but is different to that currently prepared under IAS 32. The standard is effective for accounting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018. Early adoption is permitted. The Company has not yet assessed the potential impact of IFRS 9.

4. Risk management

i. Financial risk management

In the normal course of business, the Company is exposed to a number of financial risks that can affect its operating performance. These risks are: credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk. The Company's overall risk management program and prudent business practices seek to minimize any potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance.

a. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of a financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligation. Financial instruments that potentially expose the Company to significant credit risk consist of cash and cash equivalents and trade and other receivables.

1 Cash

The Company places its cash with Canadian Schedule I banks.

2 Cash equivalents

The cash equivalent consists of a premium money market saving account placed with a Canadian Schedule I bank with an original maturity of 3 months or less. The premium money market saving account can be converted to cash on demand.

3 Trade and other receivables

The Company sells its products to distribution partners in major markets. The credit risk associated with the trade and other receivables pursuant to these agreements is evaluated during initial negotiations and on an ongoing basis. There have been no events of default under these agreements. As at December 31, 2014 and 2013, no material trade and other receivable balances were considered impaired or past due.

b. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with its financial liabilities as they become due. The Company is exposed to liquidity risk, as it continues to have net cash outflows to support its operations. The Company's objective for liquidity risk management is to maintain sufficient liquid financial resources to meet commitments and obligations in the most cost effective manner possible.

The Company achieves this by maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalents and managing working capital. The Company monitors its financial resources on a weekly basis and updates its expected use of cash resources on the latest available data. All of the Company's financial liabilities are classified as current liabilities. Current liabilities were $3,042 as at December 31, 2014 with all of them having expected settlement dates within one year. There are uncertainties related to the timing and use of the Company's cash resources.

c. Market risk

1 Currency risk

The majority of the Company's revenue is denominated in U.S. dollars and Euros. As at December 31, 2014, cash and cash equivalents included US$378. Trade and other receivables included a total of US$393 and €54. Trade and other payables included a total of US$1,739 and €1. There is no active hedging program currently in place due to the relatively short time frame for settlement of these balances. A 10% change in the U.S. dollar/Canadian dollar or Euro/Canadian dollar exchange rates on the December 31, 2014 amounts would impact losses by $105.

2 Interest rate risk

The Company has no material exposure to fluctuations in interest rates.

ii. Capital risk management

The Company's primary objective when managing capital is to maintain appropriate levels of cash and cash equivalents for working capital and operating purposes, as well as funding commercialization of its core products. Capital consists of share capital, contributed surplus, other equity reserves, and deficit.

The Company achieves this by maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalents and managing working capital. The Company monitors its financial resources on a weekly basis and updates its expected use of cash resources on the latest available data.

- i. The Company is authorized to issue an unlimited number of common shares.
- ii. On December 15, 2014 the Company announced that the Toronto Stock Exchange (the "TSX") approved its notice of intention to make a normal course issuer bid ("NCIB") for its outstanding common shares (the "Shares"). At the time of acceptance, there were 179,737,241 Shares issued and outstanding. The Company may purchase up to 22,461 Shares on the TSX during any trading day, which represents approximately 25% of the average daily trading volume on the TSX for the most recently completed six calendar months prior to the TSX's acceptance of the notice of the NCIB. All Shares purchased under the issuer bid will be cancelled.

Subsequent to the year end, the Company repurchased 90,000 Shares under this NCIB for $56.
